“Blue Sea” Domestic and International Post-Screening Discussion

Our First Trip to the Busan International Film Festival

Since then, the world has become "our world".

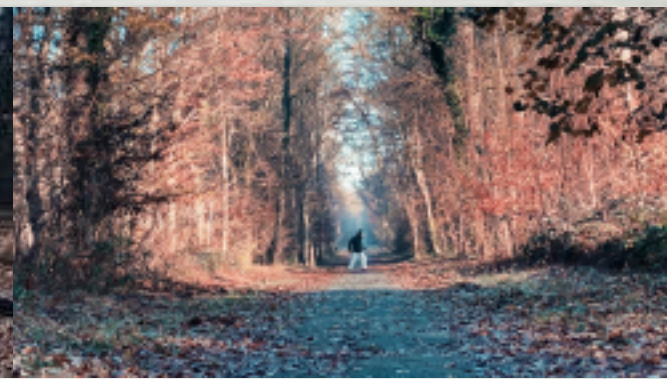

—Ronan

Ronan studied French at the Sorbonne University (CCFS). We lived in Paris together.

On the weekend, We often went to the museums or walked on the street to find inspiration.

We also filmed our own short movie in the Forêt domaniale de Saint-Germain.

“Paris est une fête.”

From March to April 2026, we spent 15 days driving around Iceland, using different filming devices to capture glaciers, volcanoes, 8,000-year-old caves, black sand beaches, the Northern Lights, and more.

*The world is full of so many things that are truly unique, and that is why we still love it.
During our journey, we also became more certain about the theme and expression of our work.*

Our Thailand trip: we stayed long-term in Bangkok, did fieldwork in Kanchanaburi, and pieced together Thailand's WWII history right on the Bridge over the River Kwai. Deep immersion into diverse regions and nations has always been our unwavering pursuit.
